OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT 6 1862

"The Great Ground Swell."

"The result of the election in Illinois, on that article of the Constitution prohibiting the migration of negroes to the State by a three-fourths majority, and their exercising the elective franchise by a nine tenths vote, is but one symptom of the popular will which is now setting in adversely to the Administration, and which ere long will become so powerful that no human power can arrest its sway."—Albany Inquirer.

There has been for the last year a continual misrepresentation of the political matters of Illinois in the secession press of Oregon — We recapitulate A convention was called in Illinois to amend the State Constitution, the Republicans did not make the election of delegates a political question the Democrats elected were a majority of that body, and a few Vallandigham men took the lead and made a Constitution which so apportioned the State for members of the State Legislature—(House and Senate) and also for members of Congress, as to secure the rule of the minority of the people and to secure the election, in future, of a majority of democrats to the Legislature and to Congress At the same time they added to the Constitution to be voted on separately a provision in relation to banks, and another to prevent free blacks from coming to the State

The Constitution as thus presented to the people, was defeated by a very large majority The Bank provision was carried, as also that to prevent free blacks from coming into Illinois. We have not seen the vote, but should not be surprised to learn that, as stated by the Albany Inquirer, it reached three fourths majority.

The point of the article in the Inquirer is this,—that his last vote shows "a symptom of the popular will which is now setting adversely against the Administration" We say it shows what public opinion is and has long been in Illinois in relation to the introduction into that State of free blacks, and gives the emphatic lie to all the charges of the Vallandigham democracy that the republicans of Illinois were in favor of "nigger equality," of "niggers voting," "niggers holding office," "niggers setting upon Grand Juries," and we know not what all, have been guilty of perpetrating base and malicious falsehoods. According to the latter of the Vallandigham democrats they were the only white man's party, and unless they were permitted to have their way, negro equality would be introduced into that State Behold the result! It is a record of the political sentiments of the republicans—an overwhelming proof of the reckless falsehoods of the [illegible] democracy. Henceforth it will not be charged that in Illinois the republicans are negro worshippers.

LEE'S DASH ON MANASSAS.—The Sacramento Union of the 26th, contains the following explanation of this affair

It appears that Lee succeeded in pushing a strong column, under Stonewall Jackson, between Pope's right wing and the Blue Ridge, thus partly turning the right of the army of Virginia. A dash upon Manassas Junction on Tuesday night, cost the Federal side a large amount of Government stores and a considerable number of troops, who were killed or made prisoners. Pope immediately made dispositions to entrap the enemy, and having besides the corps of Sigel and McDowell, the veteran corps of Heintzelman and other troops belonging to the army of the Potomac, his orders were executed with vigor and rapidity Hooker's famous fighting division attacked the enemy at Manassas on Thursday, and after an obstinate struggle completely defeated them, capturing camp equipage, arms and one piece of artillery Another fight occurred between Heintzelman and Jackson, when the latter was forced to retreat along the road towards Washington. Preparations were made for a renewal of the attack on the enemy, at daylight on the morning of the 20th—yesterday—and, according to Pope, the divisions of the enemy caught in this trap would find it difficult to escape As far as our information extends, this bold movement of the rebel Generals has been made to cost them dearly, and, as the Washington Star suggests, is likely to end in the capture or destruction of the rebel army. A battle on a grand scale probably occurred yesterday, unless Pope's anticipations were deceived.

The following is from Forney's Press, and tells a plain truth roughly, but in few words.

Lincoln's Administration is only what that of Douglas would have done, and less, had Douglas been chosen President Results have sadly proved that if Breckinridge had been elected, four years would have found the free States without a country, save that which was controlled by the institution of slavery The rebellion of 1861-2 is the voice of the devil proclaiming that, in the event of the election of Breckinridge in 1860, four years more would have found us a slave monarchy!

These are plain lessons They need no rhetoric to adorn, and no witnesses to confirm them. They are facts, and facts are better than history.

RETURNING TO WINTER.—Quite a number of miners returned on last night's boat Many with whom we have conversed intend returning early in the Spring to the mines on Powder and John Day rivers, others who have not been quite so successful, swear that it is all a humbug, and that they will never return to the land of the "web feet"

By Overland Telegraph.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

LATER FROM THE EAST.

The battle still raging.

Dreadful slaughter on both sides.

Kirby Smith Marching on Cincinnati.

WASHINGTON, Aug 30 Information from private sources received [illegible] up with and attack the enemy again [illegible] Fitz John Porter, probably arrived [illegible] that time from Manassas [illegible] distant

Cannonading is distinctly heard in Washington, the news received from the army has occasioned the greatest excitement throughout the city

Orders have been issued by the heads of the different bureaus, calling on different employees to repair to the battle field for the purpose of attending the wounded

Although the engagement with the enemy was of the most appalling and sanguinary character, yet such is the confidence of the Union men in the skill and strength of our army that an abiding faith in the ultimate success is everywhere discernable

Philadelphia, Aug 30th —The authorities received a dispatch to day, saying a hard battle has been fought to day That the loss is heavy, and requesting to have all the surgeons possible sent to Washington to night

Cincinnati, Aug 29th – Col Garrard bearer of dispatches from Gen Morgan to Gen Wright, arrived this evening states that Kirby Smith at the head of 20,000 men has left the front of the Gap and was at London, 60 miles from Lexington, Wednesday They threatened to march for the Ohio river

Fears are entertained that they may succeed, as the Federal troops are scattered Morgan will not leave the Gap to fall into possession of rebel armies, menacing it on either side, although he will receive supplies and reinforcements, he cannot be supplied at this juncture His position is again most critical

Gen Wallace, who is here advises that fortifications be immediately thrown up around Cincinnati He believes that Smith will reach the border

Buell is reported at Chattanooga his army threatens Bragg's who is fortifying

A HOLBROOK

CHICAGO August 29 —A dispatch from Columbus, Nebraska, says there is trouble between the Yanktons, Sioux and Pawnees — The former attacked a Pawnee village on their reservation killing twelve men and fourteen squaws The whites in the neighborhood manifest no alarm, as the Sioux have not troubled them yet Nothing further from the reported troubles in Northern Iowa It is believed that the first report was exaggerated

At a recent examination of girls for the rite of confirmation in answer to the question "What is the outward and visible sign and form in baptism?" the reply was, "The baby sir."

An idler boasted to a farmer of his ancient family, laying much stress upon his having descended from an illustrious man who lived several generations ago So much the worse for you," replied the farmer "for we find the older the seed the poorer the crop"

No man can ever purchase his virtue too dear, for it is the only thing whose value must ever increase its price which we pay for it.

Eastern News

WASHINGTON, August 29 Six Captains and six Lieutenants of the Seventy first Ohio Regiment, who were at Clarksville Tennessee, at the time of the surrender of that place, having published a card that they advised Col Mason to surrender, they are dismissed from the service, and Col Mason has been cashiered for cowardice

MEMPHIS August 2[illegible] —Charleston advices to the 21st say One hundred and sixty Carolinians were surprised by the Federals at St Helena Island near Port Royal A number were killed and thirty six captured

ST LOUIS Aug 28 —Gen Schofield has issued an order directing a levy of half a million dollars on the secessionists and secession sympathizers of this county, the money to be used in arming and equipping the enrolled militia and for the support of the families of volunteers

Col Boyd commanding at Greenville Missouri, telegraphs that Major Lippert with 150 men, attacked 350 guerrillas, 30 miles beyond Bloomfield, routing them. The rebel loss was 20 killed and 60 wounded and a number made prisoners Sixty horses 70 stand of arms and all the camp equipage were taken The survivors scattered in every direction The Provost Marshal has emancipated about [illegible] negroes belonging to rebel owners

The official statements confirm the report that Gen Blunt has driven the rebels across the Osage, with the loss of all their transportation equipments besides numerous arms and prisoners It is considered that the expedition has saved the towns on the western borders striking terror into the hearts of the rebels as far as the Kansas line Blunt's column returned to Fort Scott on the 22d, having marched 400 miles in six days Col Cloud was left to continue the pursuit It is not improbable that the main force of the rebels will be forced to surrender

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be attached with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather; and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored [illegible] above or below to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be stitched.

It should [illegible] lock up or short stitch, and [illegible] and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed, no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to soil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge, even the under side, or ravel.

A Soldier's First Battle.

So then the problem is solved, and I am after all a hero! I am glad to know it, for it gives me confidence in myself that I did not before possess. I had long doubted wether that identity known to its fellows as Edgar Brandon was a brave man or a coward, and now the doubt is removed, the matter is clear, the fact is established, numbers have witnesed it, and the General has made it public. Well, now that I am a hero, have been congratulated by my comrades and strangers, been acknowledged as such by my Government, and am lying here in the hospital with a broken arm, two broken ribs, a bruised head, a serious stab, and sundry minor ailments, with plenty of time to think and reflect, let me recall the details and see what claim I have to the honorable distinction. A private in a battalion of cavalry, flanking the right of a column of infantry, and quietly watching the dense bodies of the enemy, as they steadily moved up into position for opening the terrible conflict, their bright arms glittering and flashing in the unclouded rays of a clear, morning sun, I had not the responsibility of command to distract my thoughts from the consideration of personal danger, and I remember calculating the chances of my being the first victims, when the black-mouthed batteries of the foe should belch forth their messengers of death. Though I sat firm and still, I felt very ill at ease, and looking round upon my comrades, I saw many a pale face and quivering lip, which convinced me their thoughts and feelings were similar to mine. Why could we not advance? Why must we remain there, like so many statues, and let the iron hail strike us with all our cold, shuddering reflections upon us. Oh, for action, action of some kind, to ward of the thoughts that were secretly making us tremble, like cowards? Should we break and run at the first sight of blood? There was no telling, for we were as yet untried soldiers, and scarcely a man among us had the right to say that he would stand fire. How was it with veterans? Did they ever feel as we felt while waiting for a battle to begin?

The suspense was awful, and every minute made it worse. Why did not one side or the other fire, and break the paralyzing dread? But no—marching, marching—moving here, there and yonder—all except our column, which had got into position too soon, and must now wait idly for the dread messengers of destruction, like so many sheep in the butcher's pen.

Gradually the whole field began to settle down into a death like quiet, and at last the two armies stood passively before each other, face to face, watching each other in that ominous silence which precedes the bursting of the tempest. And then I would have given half of my life, whatever that might be, to have been at home. So much for that courage which men now applaud, and which is said to have won me such honorable distinction.

From my position on elevated ground, I could see the head-quarters of the opposite army, with mounted officers prancing and curvetting around a centre, which I knew to be the commander-in-chief, the single human being who was to direct that host amid the roar and rush and carnage so soon to be. Ah! cool should be the brain and great the skill of him who is the thinking principal of such a mighty mass! whose will may be the fate of hundreds, perhaps of thousands, perhaps of a nation itself!

There was now a deep and awful silence of perhaps a minute, as if each commander dreaded to be the first to open the work of death, and there was a single flash, a single roll of smoke, a single heavy boom, and the signal of deadly strife had been given from the cannon's mouth. Then came the united roar of more than twenty batteries, all along the lines, to which our batteries gave the answering roar, and in an instant the missiles of death had passed from foe to foe, and the terrific battle had begun.

Five, ten, fifteen minutes passed, with the ground fairly trembling under the roar of cannon, and still there was nothing for me to do but sit on my horse, look down upon a cloud of smoke, listen to the sounds of strife, and calculate the chances of being suddenly hurled into eternity with every breath I drew. At first the balls went wide of the position I occupied, and men fell at a distance; but gradually the strife grew nearer more near, till at length the balls began to sing around us, and the heavy smoke rolled up to envelop us in its sulphurous folds. Now the roar of cannon, the rattle of musketry, the shouts, shrieks and groans of the combatants, made a horrid din in the ears of one who, with nothing to do wished himself a thousand miles from that perilous place. Why were we kept idle, to be shot at like so many dumb targets? Occasionally, as the smoke lifted, I could see cavalry charging, and infantry advancing and firing, and I envied those who, while doomed to face the danger, had some action for the body as well as the mind. If we must remain in that horrible locality, (and I confess I thought seriously of the chances of running away,) in the name of Heaven, let us have action of some kind!

"Well, Palmer, what do you think of this?" I said, turning to the man on my left.

His lips opened for a reply, but none ever came. A cannon ball passed through his breast, and he fell over against me, his life-blood staining my garments. I uttered an involuntary cry of horror, and clung to my saddle, with every thing swimming around me.

While thus I sat, sick, faint and dizzy, I have a dim recollection of seeing an officer dash up to the commander of our troop, and a dim consciousness that he said something in a loud, hurried tone. Then I remember hearing the words:

"We must take yonder battery!—let every man do his duty! Forward! charge!"

The bugle sounded, and somehow I found my horse in motion, with my comrades riding beside me. On we went, faster and faster, through smoke and flame, amid a confused roar of fire-arms and human voices, till down went my horse, pitching me clean over his head and into the arms of a man, who grappled me by the throat, and, springing back, struck at me with a sabre. Instinctively I parried the blow, and then somehow getting the impression that if I did not kill him he would me, I cut him down. Then there was a rush and whirl around me, that I did not understand, and somebody else seemed trying to take my life. Of course it was my duty to defend myself as well as I could, and I remember striking out with my sabre right and left, though with what effect I really do not know.

However, in something like a minute or so, I found my standing all alone, just in front of of a large cannon, with several persons fighting near me, some mounted and some on foot.—One of the mounted men looked like my captain; and with a vague idea that I ought to assist him, I was moving toward him, when a sudden blow on the head sent me reeling against the cannon, and I fell down under it.

Though partially stunned, I was not depriv of my senses, and I might easily have got up and continued the fight; but it occurred to that I was safer where I was—that I had a rather Providential escape—and so I concluded to lie there for awhile, more especially as I believed I could meet any malicious charge of cowardice with the bold assertion that my wound had for the time deprived me of consciousness.

(To be concluded.)

D., late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, the late lecturer on Diseases of Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Office Hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed or no pay. Consultations by letter or otherwise, FREE.

Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases. Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages. Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitution, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures.—Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease, who, having recovered their former health and impelled by gratitude, make known their cases and remedial agent, and their statements are authenticated by a Notary Public. The demand is [illegible] imperatively command their publicity, and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate. The undersigned does, one of a quantity of those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of uncontrollable passion in youth, [illegible] depressed in body and mind, unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of a city physician, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance, but alas! after a few weeks and in several instances months, of their treatment, I found to my unutterable horror that instead of relief, the symptoms became more alarming in their torture, and being told by one that my disease being principally seated in the brain, medicine would be of little consequence. I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy, and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who, after examining my case, prescribed some medicines which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropic and evil feelings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapacity to study, and want of resolution; the frightful dreams, and it soon is pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact, in less than two months after having consulted the doctor, I felt as if inspired by new life. That life which but a few months ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to extend the information to the brother sufferers into the hands of whom this may fall, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony of the merit of Dr. Czapkay, and I recommend him to all who are [illegible], and all who believe themselves [illegible] make a trial of his skill, and in a [illegible] and permanent cure.

JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

MARYSVILLE, June 1st, 1856.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicines, and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your Institute, with my constitution as I thought, broken entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me so quickly, but thought it might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves, that I would not get excited and tremble at every thing. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge my satisfaction at a complete recovery from those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of those discharges, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my surprise or my joy, for except having fully trusted in you, I was without any hope. [illegible] twenty dollars, your charge, and thank you with sincere gratitude. If this fill my apology will be [illegible] of it to others, in the newspapers. Respectfully yours, THOMAS HANDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CALIFORNIA.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a commendation not only as an act of the skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago I was seized with a fit of epilepsy, [illegible] inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such that I was induced to believe as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning; and although insensible to the agonies I yet deplored the miseries of my ills and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. While in this state, and having, previous to my affliction, tested the exercises of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and of my inability to reward him for his services, regardless of which however he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
